

DISCHARGE INSTRUCTIONS AFTER A BROWLIFT

- You may have a head dressing which Dr. Blanchet will remove at the first post-operative visit in a few days. If this falls off unintentionally before then, it does not need to be replaced.
- Please try to minimize your intake of narcotics, as they are nauseating, constipating, and addictive.
- Please have over-the-counter laxatives at home in case they are needed.
- Please do not take any medication on an empty stomach.
- After this procedure, because the eyelid skin is thinner and stretchier than brow skin, you may have more upper eyelid swelling than you do brow swelling as well as some eyelid bruising. This is normal even though you may not have had a procedure done to your eyelids. The swelling will last one to two weeks in general.
- You will notice that your eyes are more swollen in the morning, and you look better as the day progresses.
- No particular wound care is necessary for your brow incisions. If you had sutures that are visible over the incision, they will be removed within the week. Otherwise, you may have sutures buried under the incision. These will dissolve.
- You may shower and wash your hair 48 hours after surgery.
- Please try to keep your head elevated at night and during the day for the first week. Try not to do any heavy lifting, stooping, bending over, or anything that will increase the circulation to your head for a week or two as that will cause more swelling.
- Please avoid ASPIRIN, IBUPROFEN, or any of the medications listed on your pre-op sheet for 2 weeks after your surgery as this will increase your risk of bruising and poor healing.
- You may drive when you are no longer taking pain medication and feel comfortable to do so.
- Please do not apply any creams or lotions to incisions until cleared by Dr. Blanchet.
- Smokers heal poorly in terms of infection and wound breakdown, and you are advised not to smoke, vape, or use nicotine replacements for 6 weeks prior to and after your surgery. Nicotine screening may be necessary the day of surgery. IF THE TEST IS POSITIVE, YOUR SURGERY WILL BE CANCELED.
